

RACE DH & ENDURO

The Scorpion™ Race M is the most versatile model in the Race range: it features a tread design specifically engineered for mixed terrains, from hardpacked bikeparks to mid-soft natural sections of the trails.

The Scorpion™ Race T is named after traction, whether in acceleration, braking or cornering. The special design of this tyre is engineered to provide grip in every phase of the ride, delivering superior control and braking power. The Scorpion™ Race T finds its best application on intermediate terrains.

ENDURO

The Scorpion™ Enduro M is the most versatile enduro tyre in our range, designed for any kind of usage: daily riding on your local trails and racing in the weekend; a special tyre which delivers constant performances and predictable behaviour throughout its entire lifespan

Rear wheel specific tyre: special tread design engineered for traction and braking grip, the ideal rear tyre for balanced and varied riding. Medium profile tread design with added traction and reliability for uncompromising performance over a variety of terrains. The Scorpion™ Enduro R is the perfect rear tyre when paired with a Scorpion™ Enduro M up front

Aggressive Enduro tyre for extreme and loose conditions, from dry loam to sticky mud. The tall profile and widely spaced tread pattern cuts into and grips any kind of loose or soft terrain. The Scorpion™ Enduro S is the best choice for any Enduros with soft terrain where grip and reliability are key factors

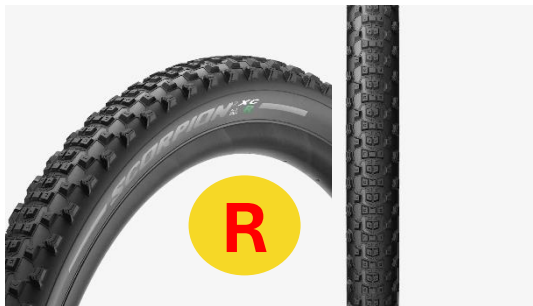

CROSSCOUNTRY

The RC is designed for the most demanding XC courses and developed with Pirelli athletes to achieve the best racing performance. A tread pattern designed to handle modern XC courses, from man-made obstacles to natural terrain and from hardpack to loose conditions. The Scorpion™ XC RC is designed for riders seeking the best performance in all racing conditions.

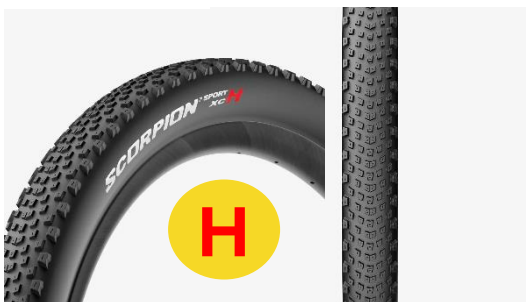

The most versatile tyre in the Scorpion™ XC range: covering a wide range of uses while offering maximum support, whether racing or training. Medium profile tread pattern for quick and confident riding over a variety of terrains. The Scorpion™ XC M is the preferred choice for XC and marathon courses where terrain can vary and versatility is a key factor

Rear wheel-specific tyre with a special tread pattern engineered for traction and braking grip. The Scorpion™ XC R is the ideal rear tyre for everyday training. Medium profile tread design with added traction and durability for uncompromising performance over a variety of terrains. The Scorpion™ XC R is the optimal rear tyre when paired with a Scorpion™ XC M at the front

Aggressive tyre for extreme racing and training in loose conditions, from dry sand to sticky mud. The tall profile and widely spaced tread pattern cuts into and grips any kind of loose or soft terrain. The Scorpion™ XC S is the preferred choice for any course with soft terrain where grip and predictability are the key factors

Designed for hardpacked cross-country and marathon courses: the best trade-off between speed and grip. Low profile and compact tread pattern for riding quickly and confidently over hardpack terrain. The Scorpion™ XC H is the preferred choice for XC and marathon courses where speed is the key factor

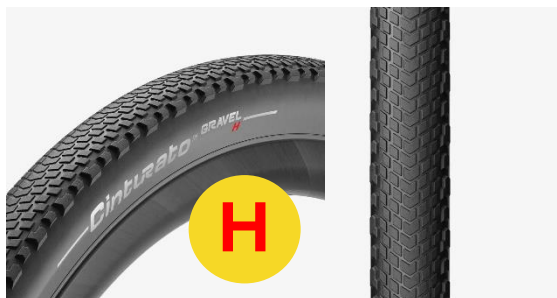

GRAVEL

Cinturato™ Gravel RC & RC-X is the gravel-racing specific tyre, derived from our experience in the biggest competitions around the World and the feedbacks of our PRO athletes. The tread design is inspired by the Scorpion™ XC RC, focussed on two key features: higher average speed on straight and fast lines, improved lateral grip when off-road cornering.

The Cinturato™ Gravel M is a gravel-specific tyre designed for mixed terrain, where the surface varies between compact and unstable terrain and all intermediate types. The tread consists of knobs with average height and spacing to guarantee excellent performance on a wide range of terrains.

The Cinturato™ Gravel H is a gravel-specific tyre designed for compact terrain and the hardest surfaces. The tread features low, tightly packed knobs and an elevated ability to adapt to the terrain, offering a large contact area and therefore excellent feeling while riding. Cinturato™ Gravel H is a high-performance tyre with unique characteristics of grip in all weather conditions, both wet or dry, plus a high level of puncture protection.

Cinturato™ Gravel S is the gravel tyre for soft and muddy terrain, it is a versatile model that delivers a safe cycling experience in adverse weather conditions and on technical tracks, at the very limit of riding. Cinturato™ Gravel S in the suggested model for those looking for a reliable tyre which is easy to control and safe in every condition. Grip and safety are prioritized rather than the pure speed of racing-specific models.

URBAN

The Angel™ GT Urban is named after the multiple prize winner motorcycle tyre Angel™ GT as they both call for speed, grip and handling. This is the best solution for those looking for performance and a dynamic tyre even when riding a citybike.

The Angel™ Urban DT is the choice for daily city and urban commuting, on different types of road surfaces. The tread pattern design derived from Pirelli Angel™ Scooter, the Angel™ DT Urban is capable of offering a safer and smoother ride, even in wet conditions.

ROAD

The P ZERO™ Race (RACE, RS, TT) has been developed in collaboration with professional athletes from our World Tour teams to deliver superior speed and grip performance compared to any other tire we have created.

P ZERO™ Race 4S is our all-season tyre. A slightly thicker tread improves the mileage of the tyre, making it the ideal solution to cycle in every season without giving up on its racing soul.

P ZERO™ Race TLR SL has been developed with a slick tread pattern to enhance the speed and racing feeling. The result is a race-day tyre with ultimate performance capabilities.

The P ZERO™ ROAD is our most comprehensive and all-round tyre, for excellent reliability and comfort, whilst still coming in at a low weight. The P ZERO™ ROAD aims to be the perfect solution of balanced performance.

The P7™ Sport is the ultimate training tyre. It was developed to give racers and everyday riders the same confidence and control as racing products, whilst providing added durability.

The Cinturato Road has been designed by our engineers to offer protection and comfort for your daily riding. The Cinturato Road is a versatile tyre, able to provide a long lasting performance in various riding conditions and terrains.

Created with a unique DNA - perfect for long-distances and various terrains, the design guarantees safe rides and confidence-inspiring handling even in harsh conditions. Ready for Granfondo riding as well as long adventures rides.